

I would like to comment on this sale. I believe that it goes against providing Choice for consumers. Voom has taken the position of providing the best quality HD content out there. If this sale goes through, Dish and DirecTv will continue to offer subpar quality HD. Having Voom be viable competitor makes everyone improve.

It has taken a long time for digital tv, and HD to come to the US, this would help keep it stifled. Please do not allow the sale of this satellite.
